In July 2013, Grand Master Millwood was a judge at the Moo Moo Kwan Hapkido World Championships in Seoul

Master Steve has been a student of Grand Master Kim since 1998. He followed Grand Master Joon Bom Kim (9th Dan) to Queensland in 2003 from Tasmania.

Grand Master Millwood has a passion for teaching Self Defence and raising the profile of Hapkido in Australia. His interest in Korean Martial Arts now extends to Kum-do (Korean art of sword) and Korean culture. Master Millwood travelled to South Korea in 2013 and 2005 for the Hapkido world championships with successful Australian teams. As an instructor Master Millwood believes that everybody, including high Dan's, should practice the basics of their art.

With a family of Hapkido black belts, Master Millwood believes that all children should learn basic Self Defence techniques at primary school age.

Sabum or Sabumnim (Hangul - Sabum 사범 - Sabumnim 사범님)

Sabum is Korean for Master, as used in Hapkido. In general, rank of 4th dan (4th = sa in Korean) is called Sabum.

The suffix -nim is added to show a measure of respect. .

When you address a teacher, you will therefore use the term Sabumnim.

The teacher will call themselves sa bum (you never use the suffix -nim when you're talking about yourself)
